CLINICAL TRAININGS

RMSS Institute of Nursing provides clinical training at own Multispecialty Hospital, K. H. Patil Hospital and Research Institute.

Clinical training is a cornerstone of our college and our students receive practical training through clinical rotations at our Multispecialty Hospital and we are also affiliated with leading hospitals and healthcare centers that offer our students diverse clinical placements across departments such as general medicine, surgery, ICU, maternity, pediatrics and mental health. Beginning early in the course, students participate in regular clinical rotations, allowing them to apply theoretical knowledge to real-life patient care under the close supervision of qualified nursing instructors. This structured, hands-on approach builds confidence, improves clinical judgment, and prepares students to become competent and compassionate healthcare professionals.
